

ANDERSEN

Zakharov Andrii!

On behalf of myself and Andersen company, thank you for your contribution to our common cause.

Your professionalism in the dealing with tasks has always helped to achieve high results.

Our cooperation has been fruitful. I am sure that now new opportunities will open up for you

C.

CEO,
A. Khomich

Bezsmertnyi levgen!

On behalf of myself and Andersen company, thank you for your contribution to our common cause. Thanks to your diligence, assiduity, perseverance and learning ability.

While working on commercial projects, you showed ingenuity and resourcefulness in resolving non-standard situations. Openness and sociability made it possible to win over Clients and project teams. Client-oriented, able to listen and highlight critical moments on projects in order to deliver a specific result for the Client. Attentive attitude to each employee allows you to maintain high motivation and morale of the team even on not the most interesting projects.

I am sure that now new opportunities will open up for you, because any company will be happy to have such a specialist.

CEO,
A. Khomich

ANDERSEN

Zadorozhnyi Oleksii!

As a representative of the Human Resources department at Andersen, I confidently recommend Oleksii Zadorozhnyi for admission to the Applied Data Science & Artificial Intelligence program at Breda University.

Andersen is an international IT company headquartered in Poland, founded in 2007, and employing over 3,500 professionals. Oleksii joined our company as a Junior Software Engineer and has proven himself to be a highly skilled and dedicated professional.

During his time with us, Oleksii has shown a strong commitment to self-improvement and learning, actively exploring new technologies and methodologies. His contributions to projects have been significant, and he has consistently demonstrated a responsible approach to task execution.

Oleksii possesses excellent communication skills and excels in team environments. His adaptability and drive for achieving the best results make him a valuable member of our team.

I am confident that Oleksii possesses all the necessary qualities to succeed in your program. His enthusiasm, dedication, and talent will make him a valuable addition to your university community.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any further information.

Sincerely, Anastasiia Resulova, HRM, Human Resources Department Andersen

13.05.2024

HRM,
A. Resulova

ANDERSEN

Zakharov Andrii!

On behalf of myself and Andersen company, thank you for your contribution to our common cause.

Your professionalism in the dealing with tasks has always helped to achieve high results.

Our cooperation has been fruitful. I am sure that now new opportunities will open up for you

C.

CEO,
A. Khomich

ANDERSEN

Borysenko Kateryna !

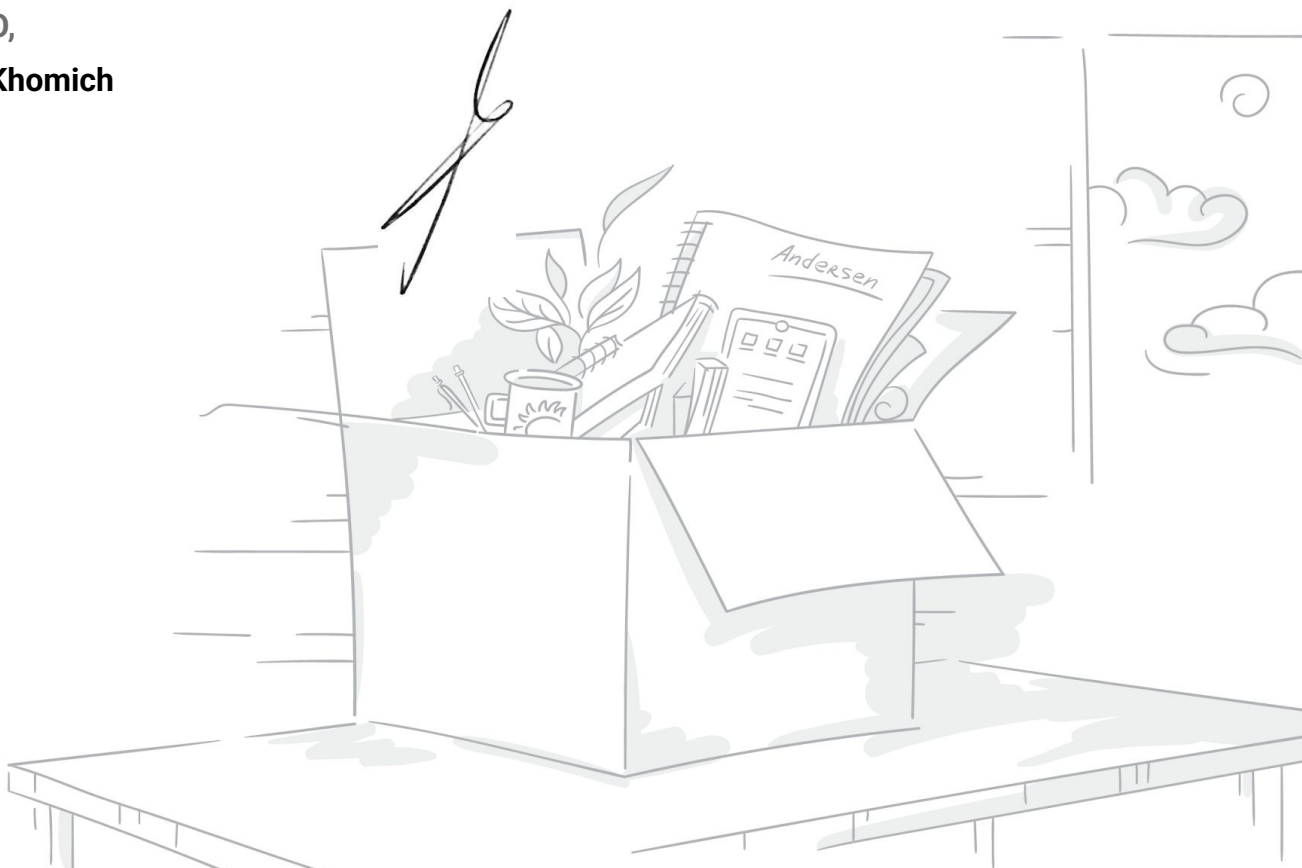

On behalf of myself and Andersen company, thank you for your contribution to our common cause. Thanks to your diligence, assiduity, perseverance and learning ability.

While working on commercial projects, you showed ingenuity and resourcefulness in resolving non-standard situations. Openness and sociability made it possible to win over Clients and project teams. Client-oriented, able to listen and highlight critical moments on projects in order to deliver a specific result for the Client. Attentive attitude to each employee allows you to maintain high motivation and morale of the team even on not the most interesting projects.

I am sure that now new opportunities will open up for you, because any company will be happy to have such a specialist.

CEO,

A. Khomich

ANDERSEN

Zadorozhnyi Oleksii!

As a representative of the Human Resources department at Andersen, I confidently recommend Oleksii Zadorozhnyi for admission to the Applied Data Science & Artificial Intelligence program at Breda University.

Andersen is an international IT company headquartered in Poland, founded in 2007, and employing over 3,500 professionals. Oleksii joined our company as a Junior Software Engineer and has proven himself to be a highly skilled and dedicated professional.

During his time with us, Oleksii has shown a strong commitment to self-improvement and learning, actively exploring new technologies and methodologies. His contributions to projects have been significant, and he has consistently demonstrated a responsible approach to task execution.

Oleksii possesses excellent communication skills and excels in team environments. His adaptability and drive for achieving the best results make him a valuable member of our team.

I am confident that Oleksii possesses all the necessary qualities to succeed in your program. His enthusiasm, dedication, and talent will make him a valuable addition to your university community.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you require any further information.

Sincerely, Anastasiia Resulova, HRM, Human Resources Department Andersen

13.05.2024

HRM,
A. Resulova

